The Organization

The University of North Carolina School of the Arts (UNCSA) is the University of North Carolina's conservatory for the arts, dedicated entirely to the professional training of students possessing exceptional talents in the performing, visual, and moving image arts. UNCSA offers students a focused, intense, professional training at the high school, baccalaureate, and master's levels in its schools of Dance, Design and Production, Drama, Filmmaking, and Music.

Founded by an act of the North Carolina General Assembly to be both an educational institution and a resource enhancing the cultural life of the State of North Carolina and the region, UNCSA offer numerous public performances, both on- and off-campus, community education in the arts, as well as faculty and student lectures and workshops. The School collaborates with educational, cultural, business, and other partners to promote the universal importance and innovative impact of the arts to our society.

2010 Works of Art

The works of art that will be studied at this site this year are:

Dance

Fiesta Flamenca

performed by Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana

The legendary dance company presents Fiesta Flamenca, a passionate piece that explores pride, sorrow, love, and passion—universal themes that transcend cultural boundaries. Through its rhythms and intensity, flamenco strikes primal chords in the emotions of audiences of all ages, all cultures, and all degrees of exposure to the arts.

Visual Arts

Selections from the Reynolda House Museum of American Art

Reynolda House (www.reynoldahouse.org) is renowned for its collection of American art. In the mid-1960s the founding directors set out to obtain the best examples of work from American artists of major significance. Today, masterpieces from three centuries of painting and sculpture make up the collection, including works by such distinguished artists as Albert Bierstadt, Mary Cassatt, Frederic Church, John Singleton Copley, Thomas Eakins, Jacob Lawrence, Georgia O'Keeffe, and Grant Wood. The collection is extraordinary for its quality and provides audiences with a thorough survey of major developments in American art in a warm and welcoming setting.

Special Guests and Workshop Leaders

Workshop Leaders (teaching artists & staff) are specifically trained by Lincoln Center Institute in the methodology and philosophy of aesthetic education.

Workshop Location and Time

The workshops will be held at the University of North Carolina School of the Arts, 1533 South Main Street, Winston-Salem, NC. For information on travel directions and additional information about the location, visit <http://www.uncsa.edu>. Additional location information will be provided after registration.

Workshops will take place from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday – Friday.

Special Attractions, Cultural Events, and Community Activities

The city of Winston-Salem is a unique blend of history, culture, charm and hospitality plus high-tech industries, diverse businesses, fine universities and medical facilities. Known as the “City of the Arts”, the arts are part of the fabric of Winston-Salem.
